SOCIAL SCIENCES

A historic survey of the nations of the past and a study of present-day nations at war have enabled students of WFSH year to understand more clearly the present world conflict. ideals and aims of our democracy have been presented in junior classes of American history. Formulating plans for a future world peace has been one of the activities of the senior classes.

A thorough study of our complicated economic system has been made. The Texas history groups have made scrapbooks showing the part which our great state has played in our war effort. study of good citizenship, bearing in mind the fact that our students today will be our leaders tomorrow, has been an important innovation of all the history students this year.

MATHEMATICS

The mathematical field moves into a prominent position in the present crisis. As preparation for work in war industries, in the fighting forces, or in colleges, students are offered two years of algebra, plane and solid geometry, and advanced and commercial arithmetic.

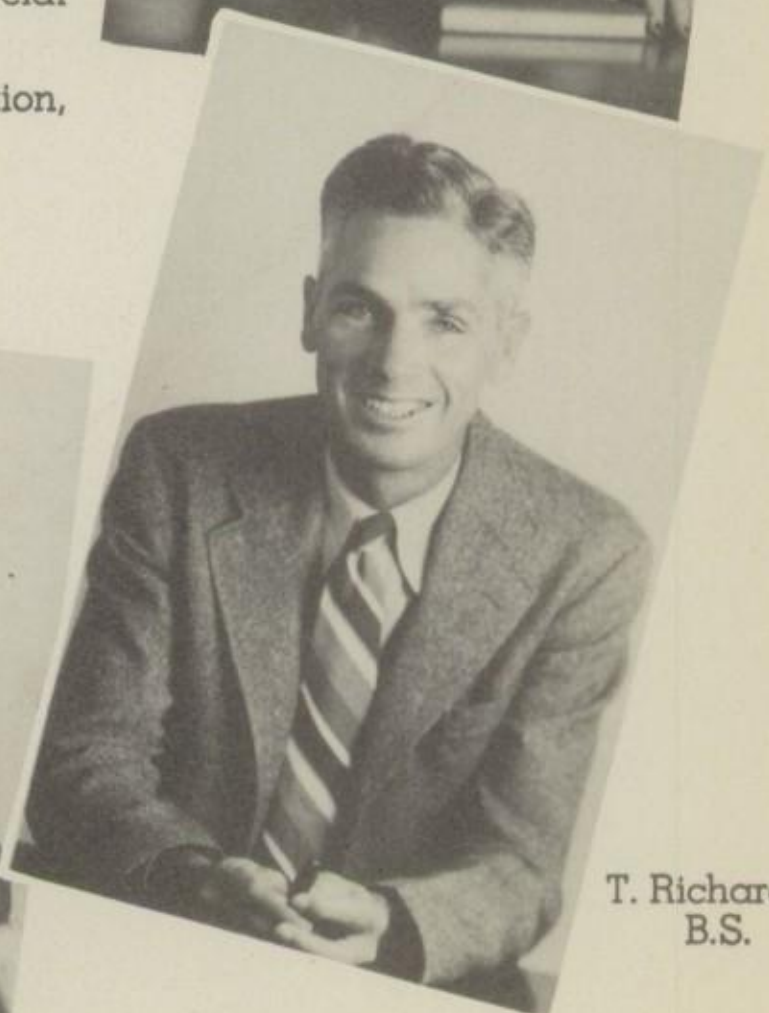

Trigonometry, a new course, is especially useful in navigation, artillery, aeronautics, aerial photography, and engineering.

Ella May Underwood, M.A.

Lena McConnell, M.A.

T. Richard Moss,

CHEMISTRY

Although the odors emanating from science laboratory are often unpleasant, chemistry students enrolled in the course have appreciation for their work. To the student of chemistry, "valence," "atoms," and "molecules" cease to be mythical terms, and become a part of the clear-cut study of formulas, compounds, and mathematics; all of which are vitally necessary to our present war effort. The chemistry courses in WFSH are ably conducted by Mr. Morris and Mr. Stone.

BIOLOGY

In contradiction to the generally accepted theory, the study of human physiology, and not bugs, is the true objective of biology. Insect, animal, and plant life are all studied in regard to their effect on man. Of great importance at this time, are the health problems stressed in this course.

PHYSICS

The students of WFSH learn the "whys and hows" of mechanics, heat, sound, light, and electricity through the study of physics. This senior science, one phase of the science program taught in WFSH, is under the competent guidance of Mr. Stone.

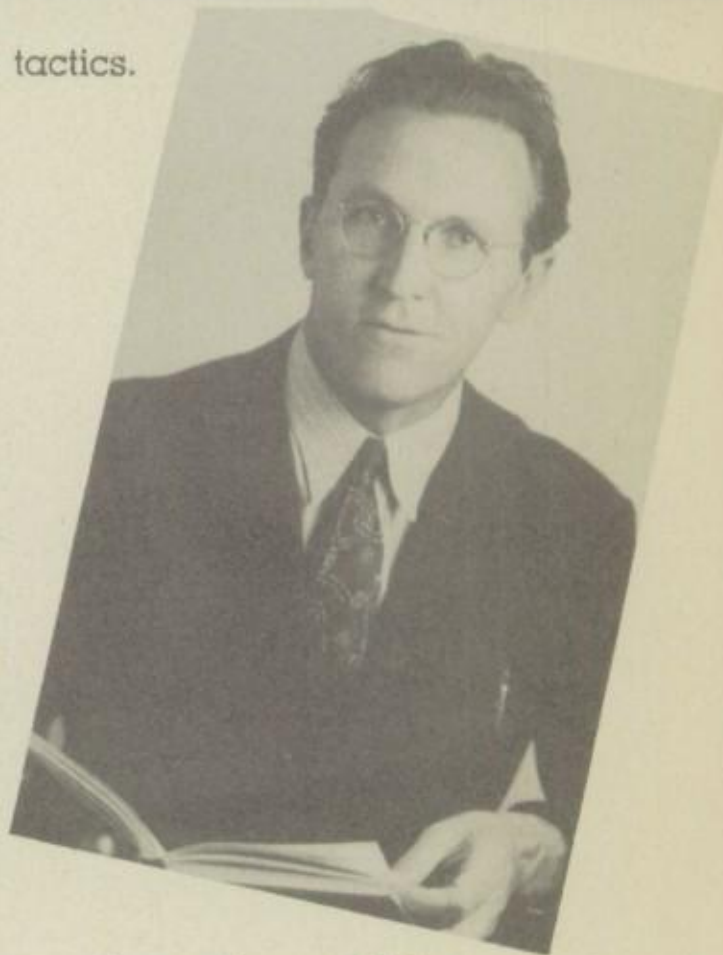

Developing defense tactics.

PRE-FLIGHT

For those students who wish to study aviation, pre-flight is a very helpful course. It offers the students a course in meteorology, a study of weather; navigation, the plotting of the plane's course; and aerodynamics, the science that deals with mechanical effects upon air.

FOOTLIGHT PLAYERS

Footlight Players have presented this many programs and plays for civic occasions, churches, the U. S. O., and the Sheppard Field. However, their most program work came within our own Footlight Players, and other students, and in all assemblies; they had charge of backstage work, and they planned and presented the majority of the assembly programs. They were always ready to assist in dramatic productions. During the year they presented three long plays, and they entered the National Catholic League One-Act Play contest in the spring. Many took part in the declamation and extemporaneous speech contests. Humphrey was voted the outstanding representative of this organization. He also has the honor of being president of the

These students, of which thirty-four have received rating certification for their service, have constructed a large number of model airplanes; these were given to the Navy for use in teaching identification of planes.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

Realizing the need for engineers and draftsmen during this crisis and in the peace program which is to follow, students of the M. D. classes have been very diligent. The study of home planning, blueprinting, and architectural designing have all been a part of the program.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Distributive education was offered for the second time this year. Forty-five students were enrolled. Boys and girls who were sixteen and who had at least a junior rating were eligible for this course. Students attended classes in the mornings and worked in the downtown stores in the afternoons. They served as apprentices in distributive occupations. "We earn while we learn" was the motto of this group.

The attitude of the commercial students is sincere and co-operative. Students from the commercial department of WFSH may be found in practically every important city in the United States, doing their part in the war effort.

Since its establishment in 1924, the Snider Library has been fortunate in having as its benefactors Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Snider. Through the years, the gifts from this couple have enabled WFSH to be up-to-date in all phases of present-day problems. # OUR FAVORITES

Victory is a glory to be shared by all, an honor not to be claimed by any one individual. And so, this year, WFSH has had no single School Beauty. Instead, we have honored ten favorites who were drafted by the student body on the basis of their popularity. As anyone can see, they are physically fit, Class 1-A specimens.

Victory Belles—we salute you!

Because of their ability as leaders in their classes and their pleasing personalities, certain students from the various classes were named as representatives. They are all good fellows and rank ace-high with their associates. We take pleasure in placing them in this very special section.

In addition to our Victory Belles and our representatives, we pay tribute to a group of students, selected by the faculty and school, who have distinguished themselves in special fields. They represent different phases of school life and rate "tops" in their respective departments. We are happy to call this group Selectees.

OUR WAR EFFORTS

Trying to make the road to Victory as smooth as possible, WFSH has unceasingly toiled, not only in contributing a near maximum of men for the armed forces and money to finance the war program, but also in doing those many small things which keep stumbling blocks and stones off the steep road to Victory.

Realizing that their loved ones must have arms and equipment with which to fight, students of WFSH have dug deeply into their pockets in order to buy that extra stamp or bond. Giving tirelessly, also, of all those little things that rank so high in the final tally, students and faculty members have helped in a small way to pave the way to ultimate Victory. Proudly smiling, each has gone about his work with determination to sacrifice and maintain a home-front worthy of our men and women in the service of their country.

Some of the "stepping stones" with which the road to Victory is paved and which students of WFSH have helped to construct are the following:

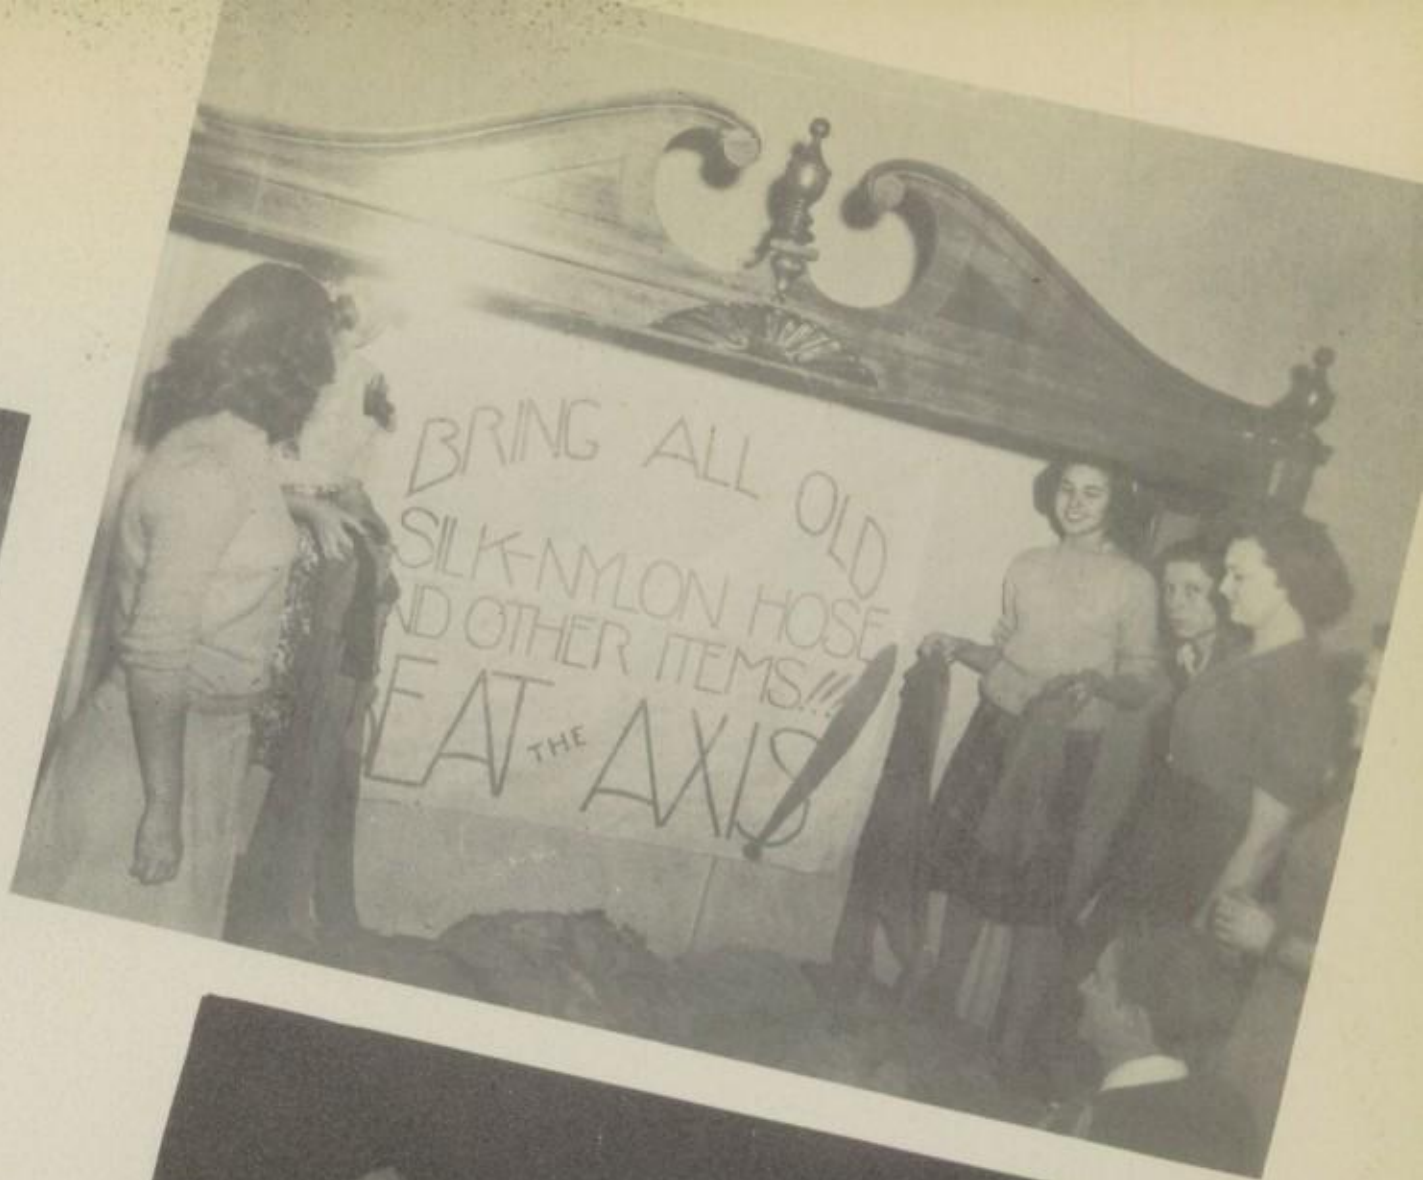

- Blue Printing and Drafting
- A Jeep in January
- Model Airplanes
- Air Scouts
- Junior WAACS
- Pre-Flight Study
- Collection of Scrap
- Collection of Old Stockings

- Collection of Keys
- War Posters
- Victory Corps
- Program of Physical Fitness
- Morale Boosters:
  - Band, A cappella
  - Orchestra
  - Footlight Players
- War Bonds and Stamps

Though the students of WFSH this year have been active and cooperative in all phases of the war program, most credit goes to our former students who have answered the call to duty in a more concrete way. By April first, seventeen hundred students (approximately) had responded to this call. Forty-three of this number were reported missing, while eleven had given their lives that freedom might live.

It is to those who have given "their last full measure of devotion" that the remaining students of WFSH promise untiring support to the cause for which these boys gave their lives and earnestly resolve that "these shall not have died in vain."

ALL ACES — SENIORS

The Hi-Y is the only organization of its kind in WFSH. Its purpose is to create, maintain, and extend to the students the standards of higher Christian character. The Hi-Y conference was held in Wichita Falls, March 22-27 of this year; it was under the direction of Mr. Leroy Stone, club sponsor, and Mr. Carl Taylor, District Executive for Hi-Y.

The officers of the club for the year 1933 were:

President—Eben Junkin
Vice-President—Jerry Hathorn
Secretary—Stanley Reynolds

These officers faithfully performed their respective duties throughout this year. Through their work, H-Y was recognized as a valuable asset to the school and succeeded in performing many services for the school and for the community.

CORRIDOR ASSISTANTS

Under the capable guidance of Mr. G. A. Reaves, approximately 45 Corridor Assistants have a two-fold job of directing traffic in the corridors and in serving as ushers at the football games. Qualifications for membership in this organization involve high scholastic rating, a good citizenship record, and an aptitude for service. Since the students respect this group, the result is that the passing periods are very orderly and the atmosphere in and around the building is conducive to normal school life.

CIVICS FORUM

Using the American privilege of historical study and criticism, civics students of WFSH were organized to consider problems of vital significance to every patriotic American. Both practical and military aspects of the present war were studied and discussed in the meetings of this year's Civics Forum. The consideration given the present issues and the part every citizen should have in the present program brought home to the members of this group the necessity of an "all-out" pledge for Victory.

First semester representatives were: Mary Jo Morgan and Howard Bunch; John Croft, Bettie Batson, and Mary Sue Roling; Jolene Proctor and Don Killelea; and Johnny Mullinix and Virginia Springer.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

The Library Assistants are a group of students who have a genuine love of books and enjoy working with them. Members of this group aid the librarians by shelving books, assisting their fellow students in the library, and by working at the desk—checking books in and out. Although these students receive no actual academic credit for this work, they receive recognition for their work as extra-curricular activity. As a result of the training received in the Snider Library, these students are able to qualify later for work in larger fields.

JUNIOR HISTORIANS

As proof that Texans are proud of their state, the Junior Historians—a large organization the purpose of which is to promote interest in Texas history—has made an extensive study of the state and its resources. Particularly have local points of interest been exploited. Besides being very active, club members have written articles for publication in the JUNIOR HISTORIAN, a magazine to which this organization subscribes. The subject for their program this year was "Texas Is Worth Fighting For."

The Junior Historians are guided by Miss Llerena Friend and the following executive council: Sara Prince, Ima Jean Smith, Lindsay Waggoner, Jerry Hathorn, Mary Lanell Haynes, and Elizabeth Noble.

WRITERS' CLUB

Essays with a Victory theme have been penned by the nimble fingers of the Writers' Club. Through the efforts of this group and their sponsor, Miss Belle Tibbets, interested in creative writing in all fields has been promoted. Special stress, however, was placed on the essay since all members participated in the Inter-scholastic League Contest.

In addition to patriotic essays, a study of the literature of the Southwest has been an interesting project this year.

SPANISH

As a result of the increasing solidarity of North and South America a knowledge of the Spanish language has become a necessary asset of a well educated person. The Spanish department of WFSH has therefore, in response to popular demand, maintained a Spanish Club in addition to the regular course study. This club has afforded the members with an opportunity to study the customs of our Spanish speaking neighbors to the South and to hear different types of Latin American music. Appreciation of Espanol and a respect for the Spanish customs and traditions have been the objectives of this wide-awake club.

Officers of the club were as follows:

President	-	-	-	-	-	Mariellen West
Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	Billy Pennington
Secretary	-	-	-	-	-	Helen Smith
Treasurer	-	-	-	-	-	John Barnard
Reporter	-	-	-	-	-	Polly Robbins

HOME ROOM REPRESENTATIVES

In practice of the very principles on which our government was founded, the Home Room Representatives have met twice every six-weeks period to discuss school problems. This group is a new club in our school, but it has already proved its worth. Representatives from each home room have met, together with the sponsor, Mr. G. A. Reeves, and have discussed problems or reforms suggested to them by students in their respective home rooms. These discussions have aided greatly in promotion of better understanding between the faculty and the student body.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Since senior membership in the National Honor Society is not determined until the latter part of the senior year, membership is restricted to the relatively small group of students who received a coveted rating in their junior year. This top-ranking organization, with Miss Pauline Shirley as sponsor, has contributed its share toward the war program.

OFFICERS

Vice-President	-	-	-	-	-	Mabelle Adams

LATIN CLUB

The meetings of the Gens Romana hold the lighter moments of the Latin students. Here they draw comparisons of tunc . . . et nunc, learn the customs of the Romans, which are still in practice.

The Latin Club is the medium through which the discipuli Romani become acquainted with the ancients as real people, who laughed, loved, fought, and died in much the same way as their twentieth century descendants.

CHECKING AND RECORD GROUP

Each year a group of students who have proved themselves dependable in all phases of school life is selected for the checking and recording positions on the office staff. These students assist in alphabetizing cards and recording grades during the second week of each six-week period.

This year's group proved both dependable and accurate in their work and did much to improve the general atmosphere of the office.

STUDENT SPONSORS

The Students Sponsors are a group of outstanding senior boys and girls selected because of their scholarship, standing, their dependability, and their leadership. These students play the parts of host and hostess to all the new students—students from both the local junior high schools and from other cities. Assistance is rendered the new students in their period of orientation. Through the efforts of these groups, new students who might otherwise become discouraged and want to withdraw, are guided through the first difficult week.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

Industry and ability were the combination presented by these helpers: Holten Harris, Richard Thompson, Marjorie Trevethan, Joe Pat Lindsey, Ralph Hall Fender, and Ruth Berry.

Cheerful smiles and the ability to meet the public were attributes of these assistants: Judith Jordan, Gene McIver, Gloria McCutchen, Nancy Lou Huff, Juel Jordan, Eben Junken, and Mary Sue Rolling.

Checking attendance was the special feature of this sextet: Olin Cecil, Mary Ruth Tyson, Gene Lasater, Adah Jo Truitt, Marian Bullington, and Karl Reynolds.

Working faithfully in the mimeograph department, this group of boys has been responsible for bulletins, announcements, and exam questions: Dan Lindsey, Ralph Krottinger, Wallace Collins, David Patton, and Jimmy Weehunt.

The Welfare Committee directs all the charity work undertaken by the club.

The Financial Committee, headed by the treasurer, collects dues, balances the books, and attends to the gift that is presented annually to WFSH by the club members.

The Girls' Club, an organization that is noted for its service in many fields, has been recognized by both school and civic authorities. The 1942-43 club provided Thanksgiving baskets for the needy, an old-fashioned Christmas tree for the Colored Day Nursery, and an Easter egg hunt for the White Day Nursery. Besides the welfare work of this organization, these girls in white assist the office and different departments with routine work at the beginning of each semester.

GIRLS'

The Auditorium Committee maintains order during all club meetings.

The Social Committee plans all the dances, parties, and other entertainments for the entire club.

MUSIC MAESTRO

The Music Maestros are those members of the orchestra who are interested in studying conducting. Mr. George Greenway, the organization's sponsor, has taught the group to study and appreciate music from the conductor's point of view. The members have formed an ensemble in which the students actually apply their knowledge in handling the baton. This year they have studied a great deal of music of the Americas and our other allies.

1942 SEASON

The past season for the Pack was one of success and of alert, brilliant football. The students of WFSH are deeply indebted to the group which constituted our 1942 football squad for the excellent type of sportsmanship they displayed this year. The squad, coached by Ted Jefferies and Bill Allen, won every contest until the post-season game with the mighty Amarillo Sanges, in which they were defeated by a close score of 6 to 0.

WILBURN FLOWERS

As a member of the reserve squad, Wilburn ably played his part in the winning of this year's district championship.

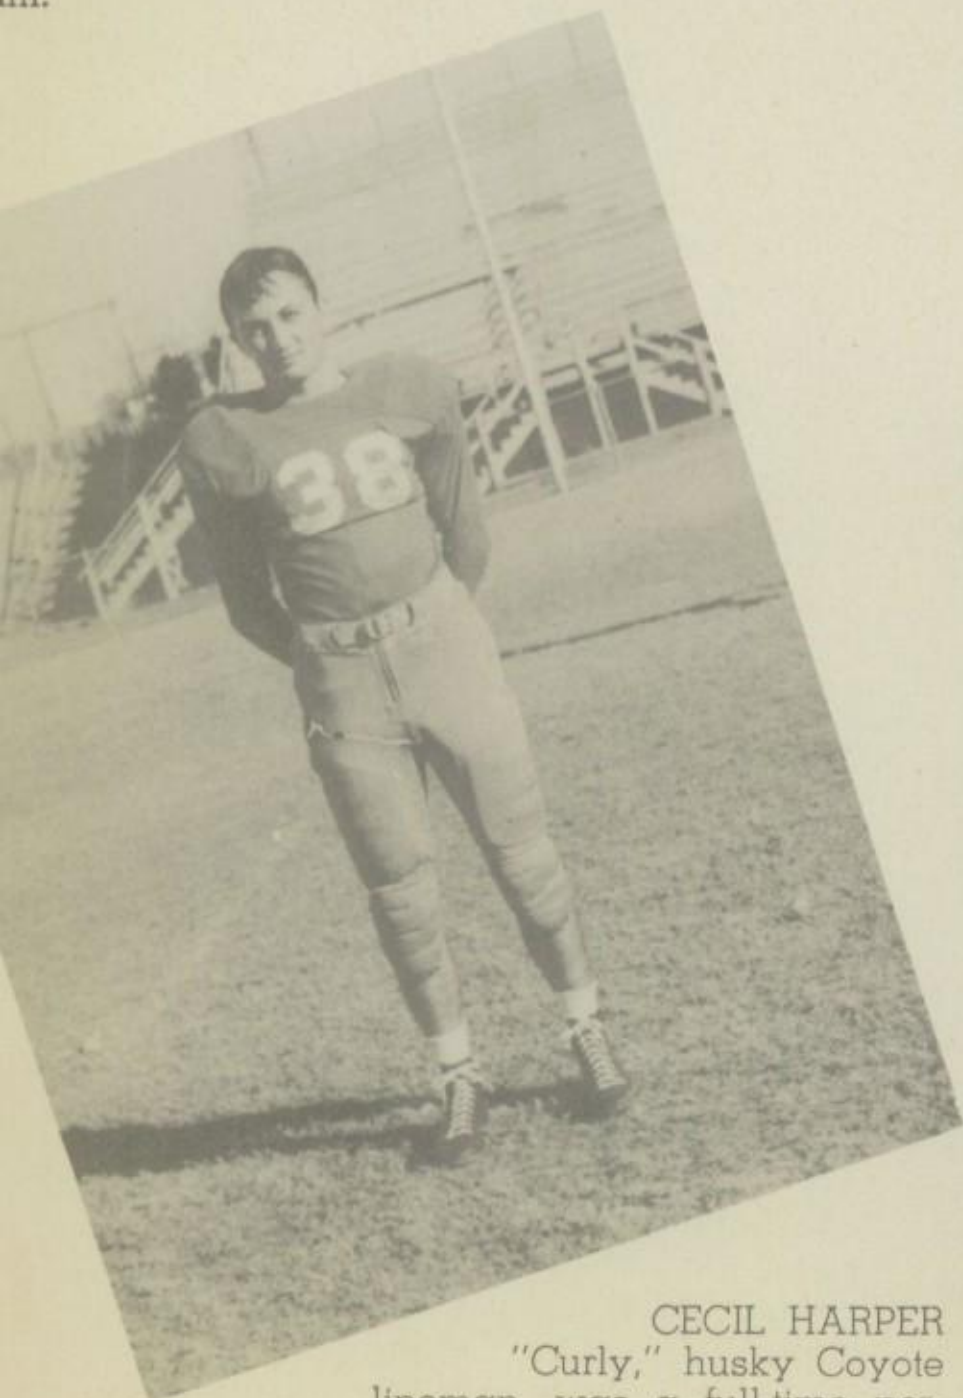

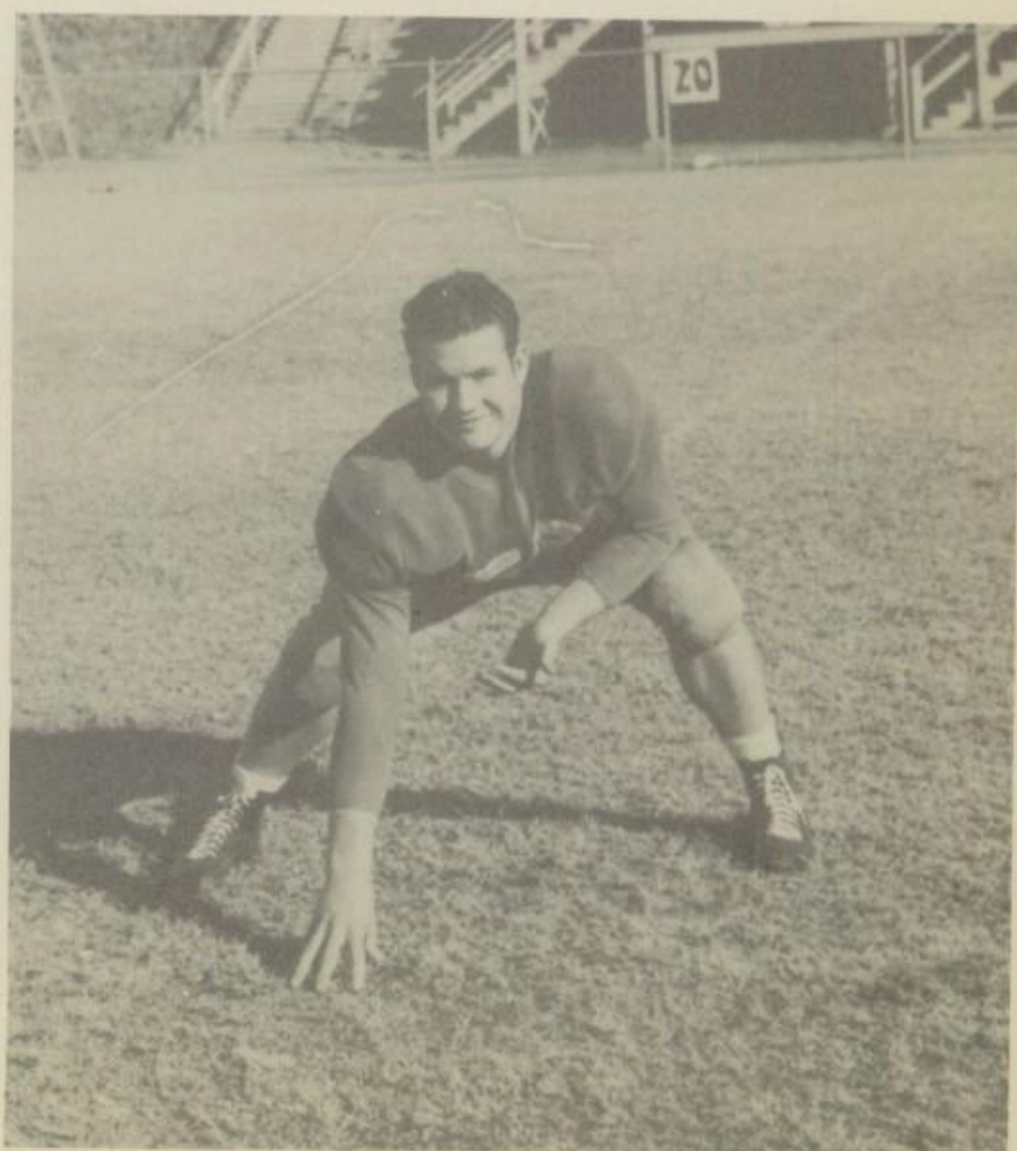

LINDSEY SPILLMAN
As his high school football career drew to a close, Lindsey saw a great deal of action as a fine offensive and defensive end.

JIMMY LITTRELL
Although not a full-time player, Jimmy showed great promise as a reserve during the season.

CECIL HARPER
"Curly," husky Coyote lineman, was a full-time performer in all conference games.

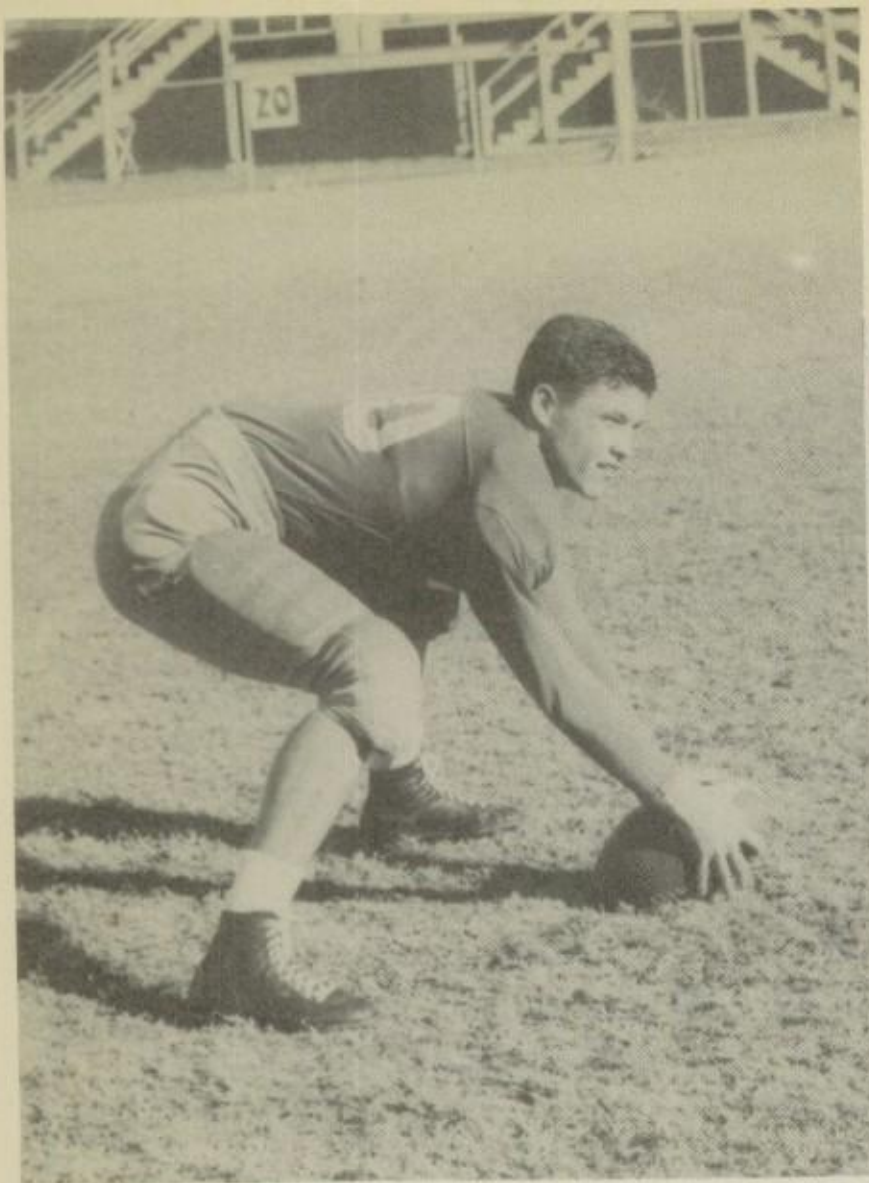

CARL HIGHTOWER
Carl was an outstanding back and added much to the power of this year's team.

JOHN DECKER

A knee injury, suffered early in the season, prevented John from as full a football career as he might have enjoyed otherwise.

KENNETH STOWE

As reserve center, Kenneth played a big part in the Coyote line this season. He was recognized as an efficient, alert linesman who was always on the right spot.

CLIFTON GARRETT

Clifton, also known as "Snuffy," was a aggressive guard who was constantly in line-up throughout the season.

PAUL HADLEY

Although a beginner at the game, Paul accredited himself favorably in the few times that he played. With only slightly more experience, he will be definite first-string material.

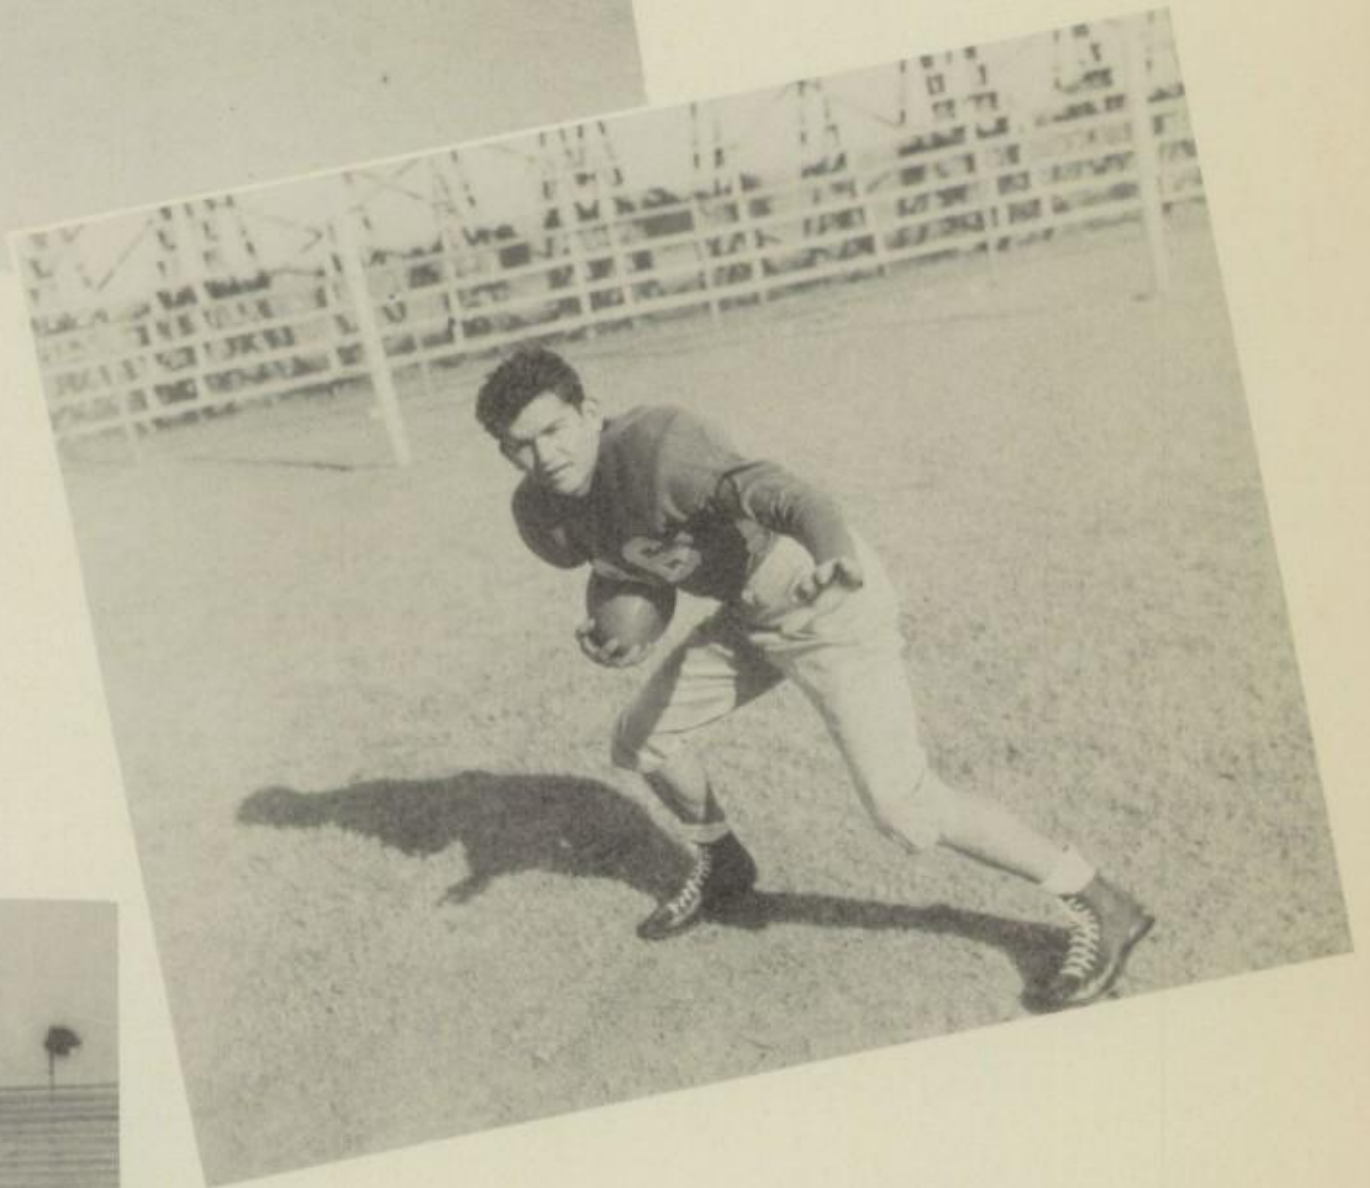

The Sherman ball club had the spirit but lacked the weight necessary for a winning team. They were easy victims for the Coyote power and were defeated by a score of 69-0.

JAMES LOWER

James did not see much service this year, but he gained some valuable experience that will be of great benefit to next year's team.

In the final district game of the season, a strong Coyote eleven smashed the powerful but inexperienced Burk Burnett Bulldogs. The final score was 60-0.

BILLY MANN

Although he did not play in many games this year, Billy supplied a part of the reserve power necessary to a successful team.

DON DUDLEY

Throughout the season Don played a hard, fast game at end. His speed and alertness constituted a large part of the Coyote defensive game.

DON FRAZEE

Powerful reserve back, Don Frazee did only enough service this season to keep him in the line-up, but he is expected to be a steady starter next year.

DEWEY EDGIN

Dewey was classified as an important member of that vital section called the reserve squad. He is expected to be of much value next season.

A powerful Breckenridge team tried valiantly to stem the tide of a superior offense. They were edged out with a score of 25-14.

BILL COLLINS

"Spot" provided the spectators with many a thrill, catching numerous long passes for several tallies this year.

KENNETH ESCHMAN

As a blocking back, Kenneth was one of the most efficient, hard-hitting backs on the 1942 squad.

BOBBY LEE SMITH
As a star receiver for many of brother Robbie Dee's spectacular passes, Bobby Lee played an invaluable part in the winning of many games.

BILL TILLMAN

Fulfilling the post of powerhouse in the Coyote backfield Bill showed much stamina throughout the season.

DONALD OWEN

Holding down the position of guard, Donald played an important part in the invulnerable Coyote defense.

ROBBIE DEE SMITH
Playing the role of triple-threat backfield quarterback Robbie Dee led the Pack to the District 2-A championship.

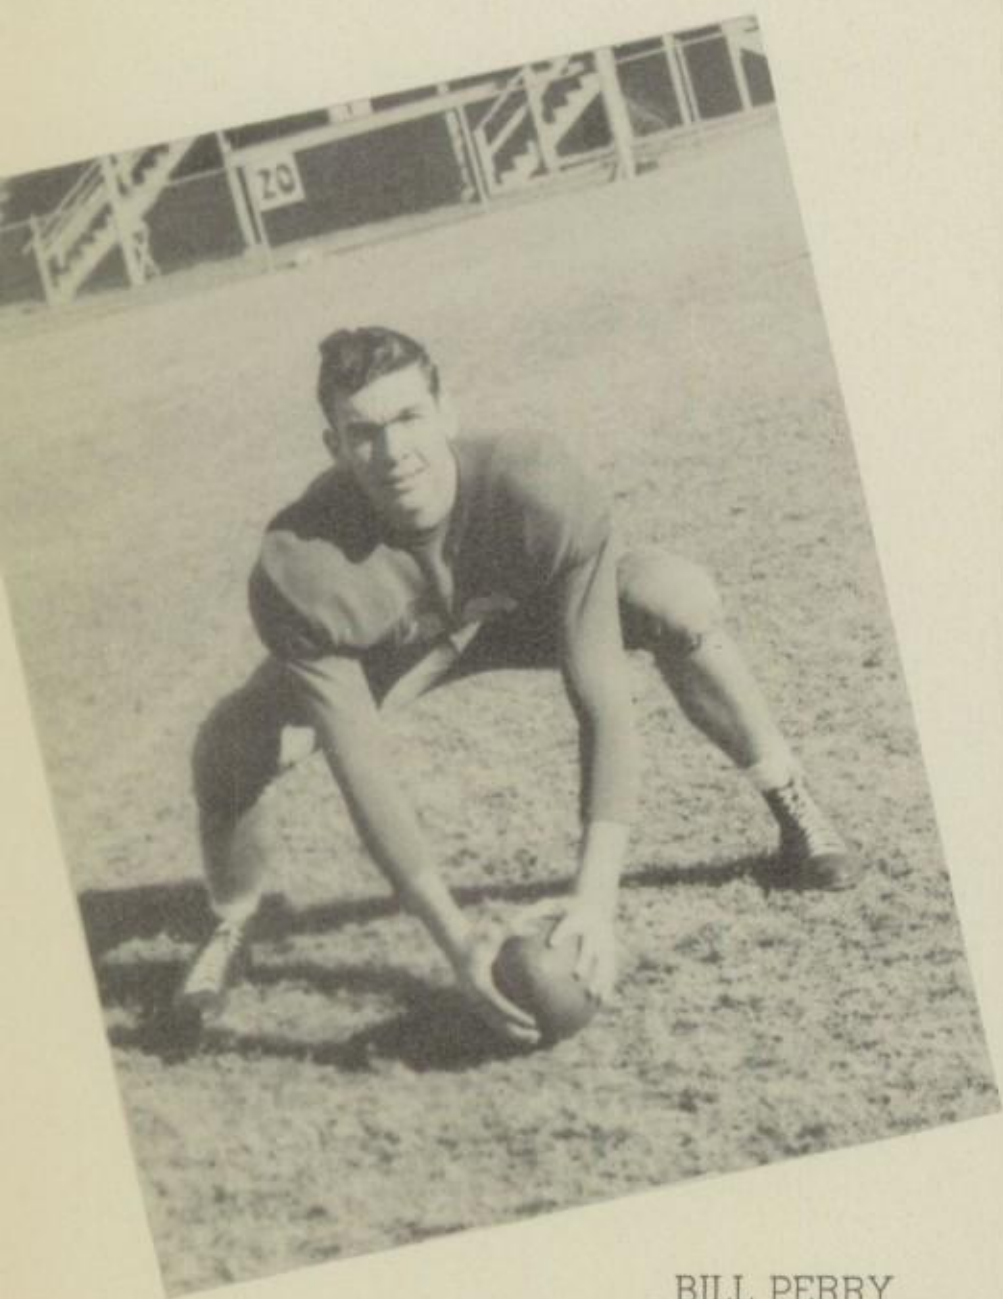

HERMAN BALCH

Lack of experience was the only obstacle that prevented Herman from playing in every game. He returns next year.

BILL PROCTOR

Because of his weight and high spirit, Bill was a valuable asset to the team. His determination helped the morale of the team repeatedly.

BILL PERRY

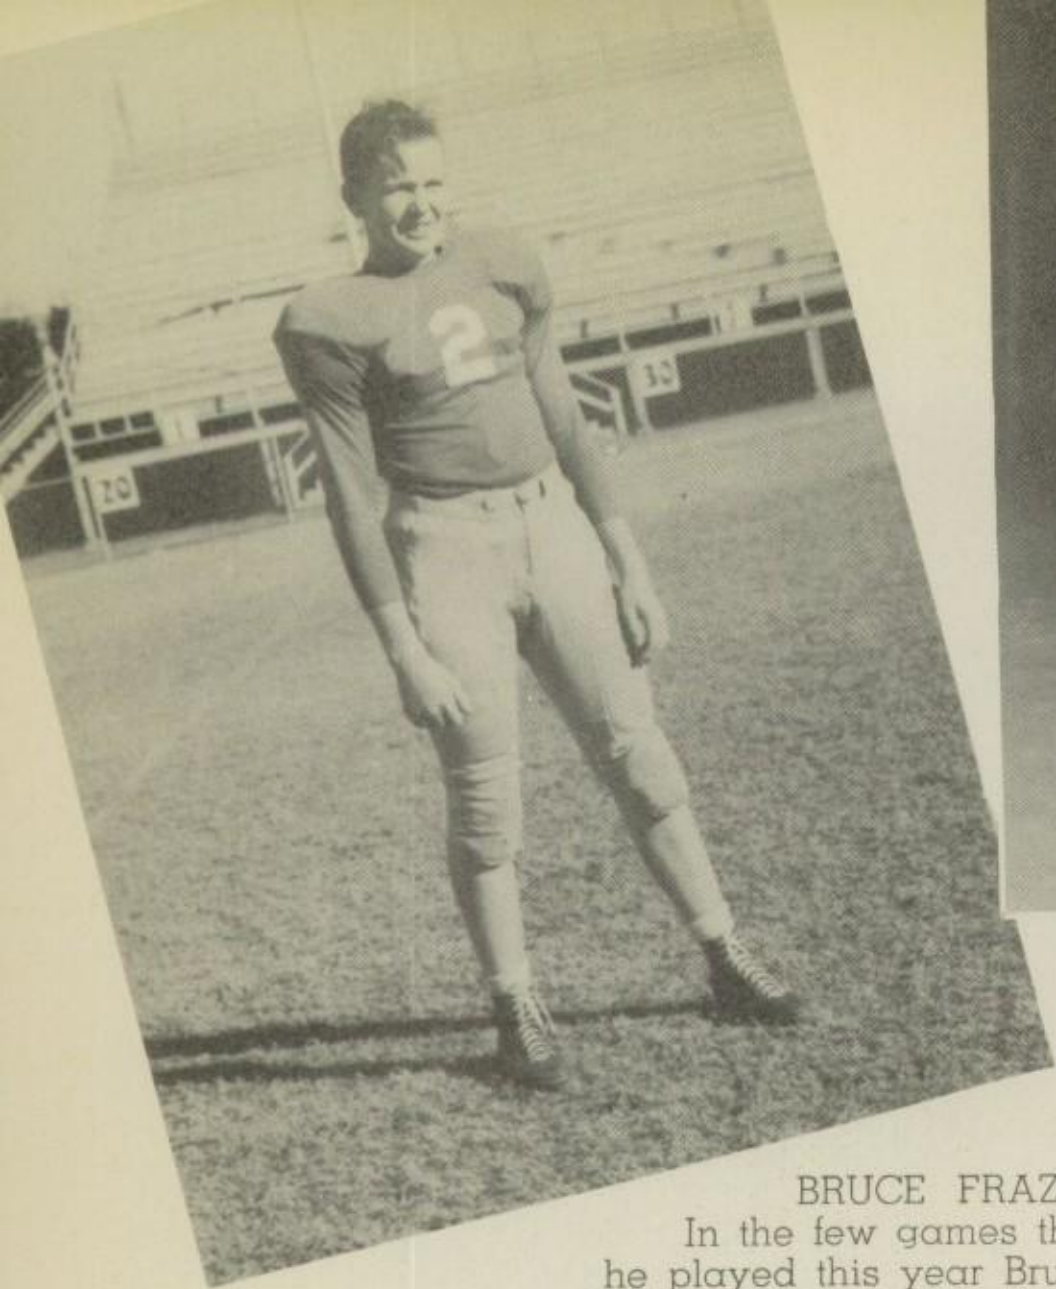

Bill filled the slot of regular center for this year's district championship team and was one of the most dependable players on the team.

LEON FOSTER

As captain of the '42 eleven, Leon held down the tackle post and often switched to the backfield to carry the ball.

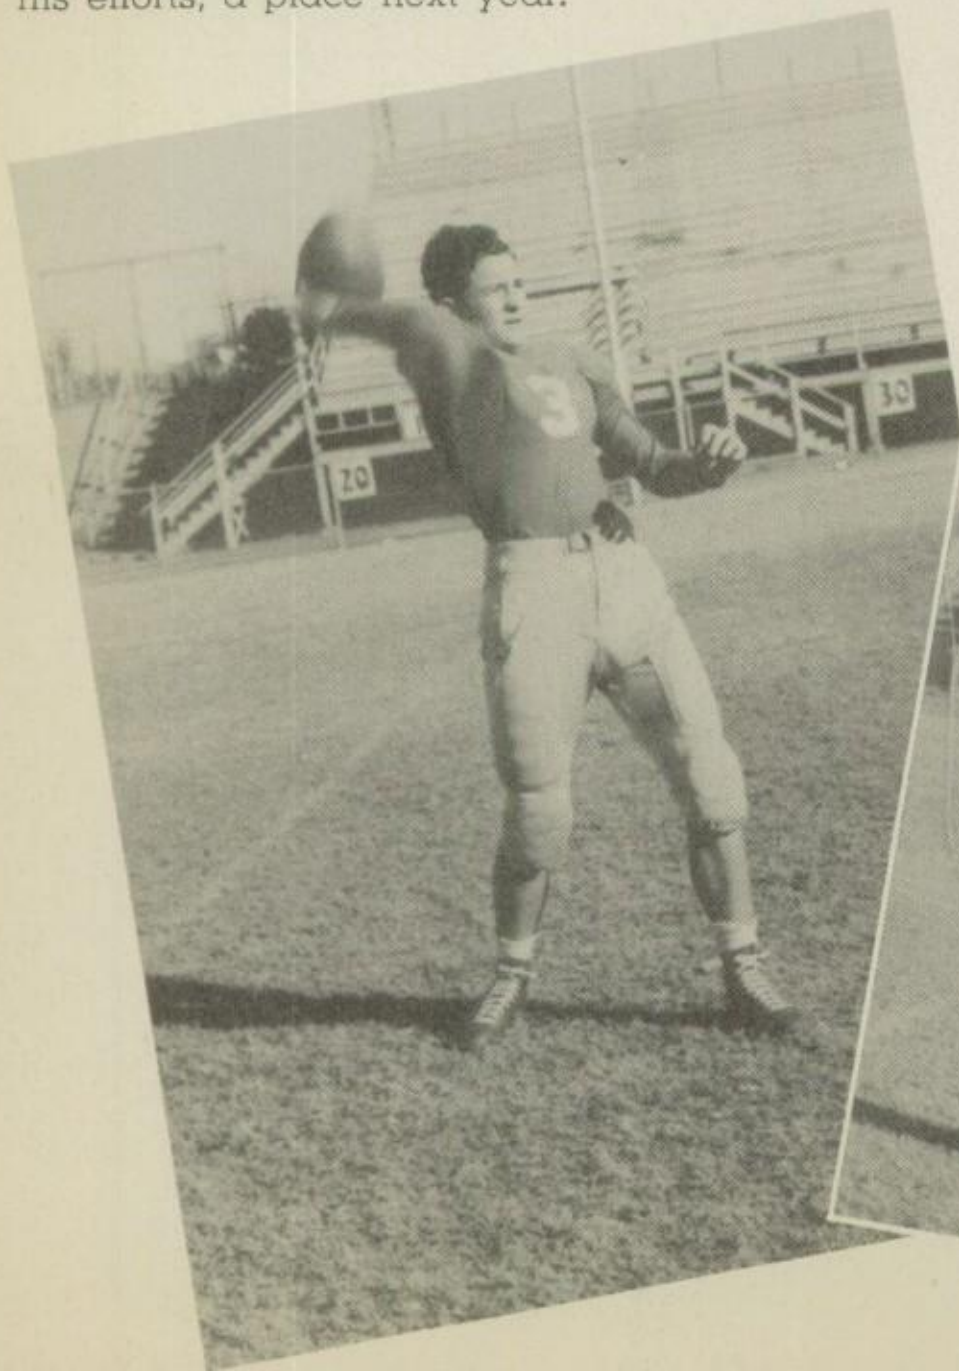

BRUCE FRAZEE

In the few games that he played this year Bruce showed that he will definitely be an addition to next season's eleven.

DONALD TILLMAN

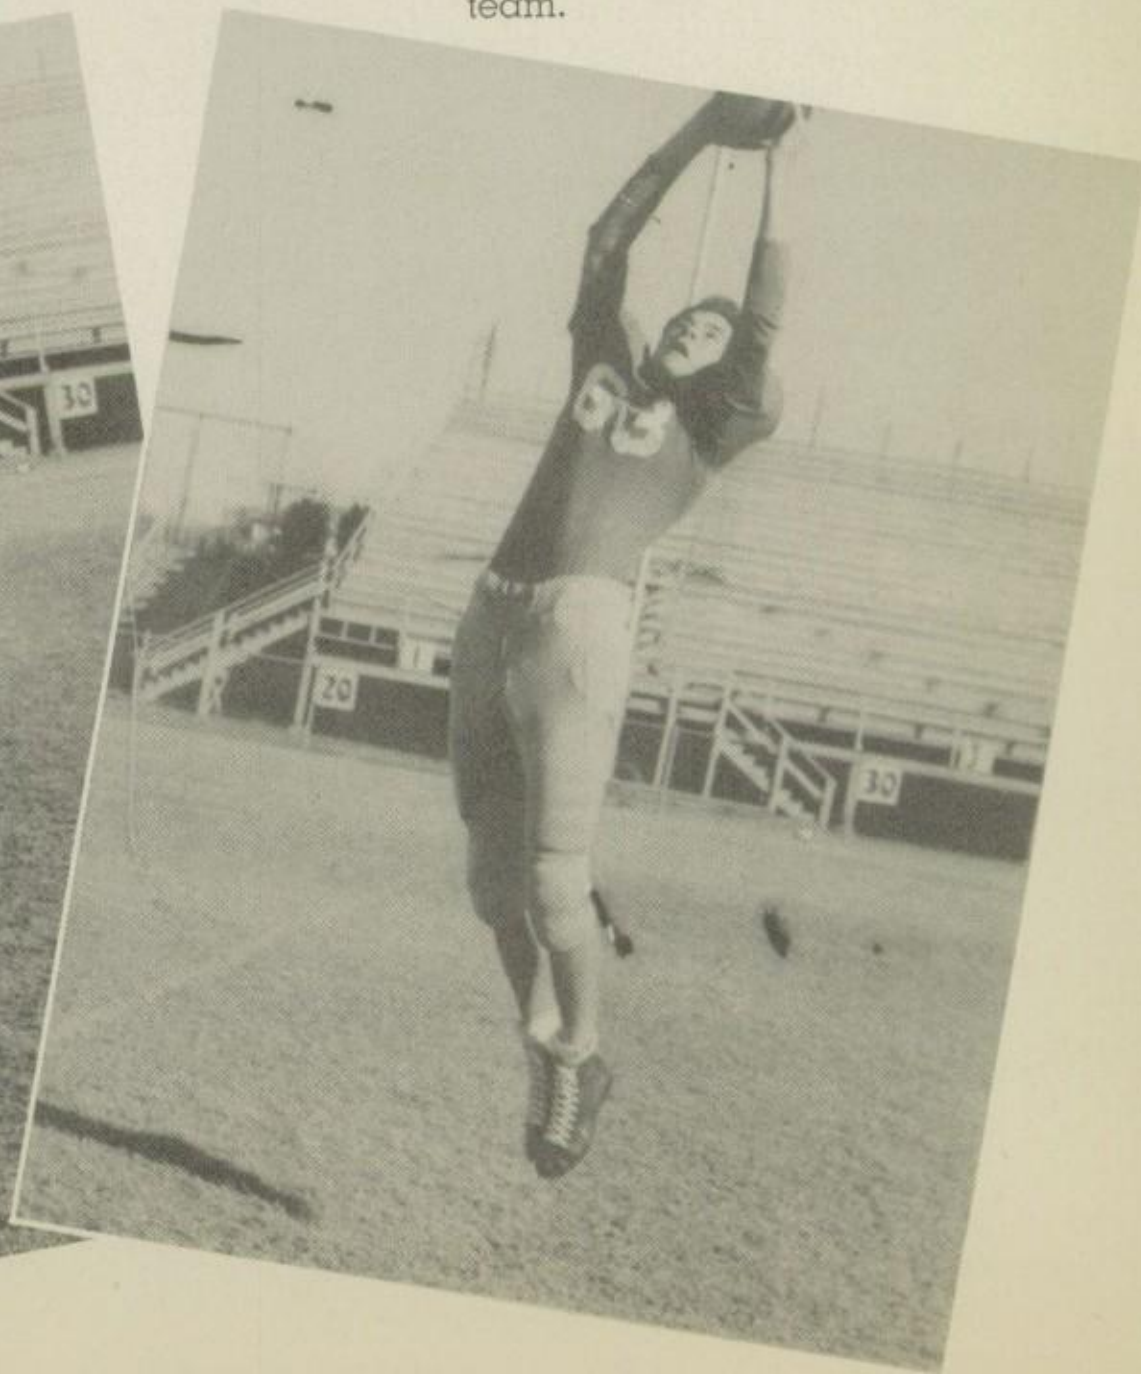

Donald was another member of this year's reserve squad, and he has earned, through his efforts, a place next year.

The Graham game was one of alert, heads-up football by both elevens. However, the game Graham squad was lacking in that vital factor, weight and thus they were beaten by a score of 62-6.

RALPH GRIFFIS

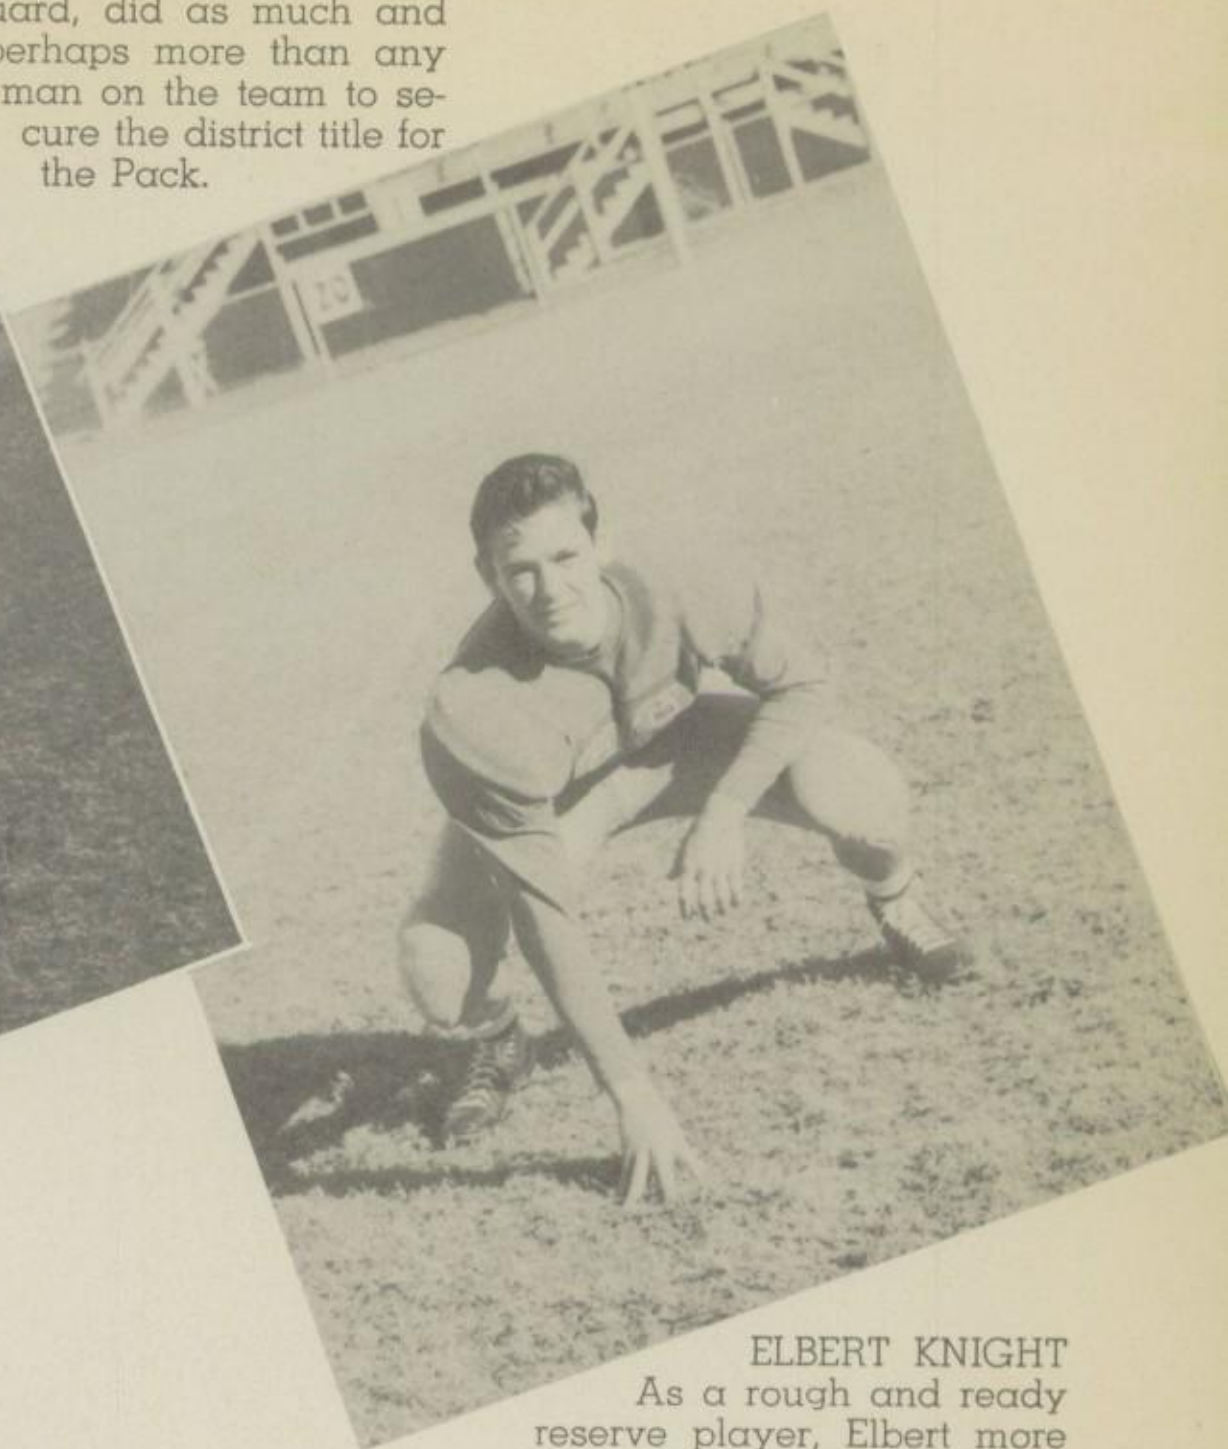

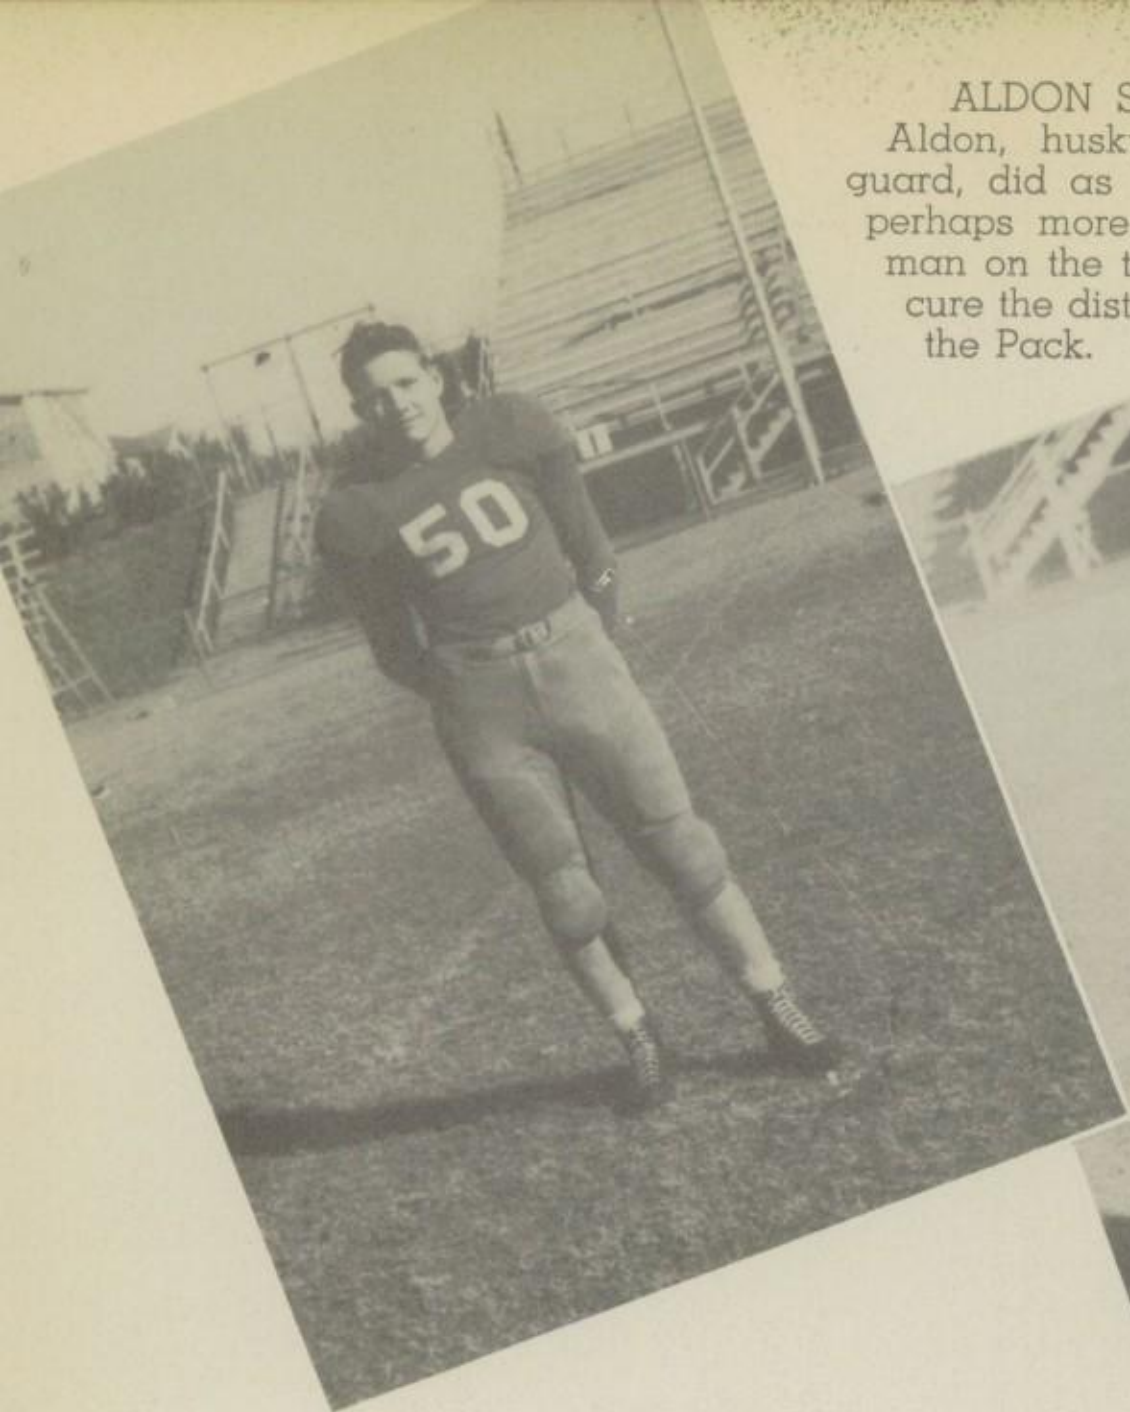

A reserve squad member who played in a number of games, Ralph really earned his letter and his place on the team.

ALDON SHIPP

Aldon, husky full-time guard, did as much and perhaps more than any man on the team to secure the district title for the Pack.

ELBERT KNIGHT

As a rough and ready reserve player, Elbert more than earned his place on this year's eleven.

A fighting Childress eleven was completely upset by a superior Coyote team. The score was 21-0.

EDWIN HOUSE

The chief worry of many opposing teams this year was huge Ed House, tackle. Edwin blocked up many a break in the line and played in nearly every game.

BASKETBALL

1943 Coyote Basketball Squad

For the first time in many years, basketball was a leading sport in WFSH. The students and faculty took a real interest in the team and did much toward supporting it and helping the morale of the squad. Several practice games were played before the district tournament; in the majority of these, the Coyotes were the victors. The Pack was defeated in the finals of the district tournament after two preceding games.

Coyotes 34 Childress Bobcats 30

Coyotes 21 Graham Steers 20

Coyotes 26 Vernon Lions 28

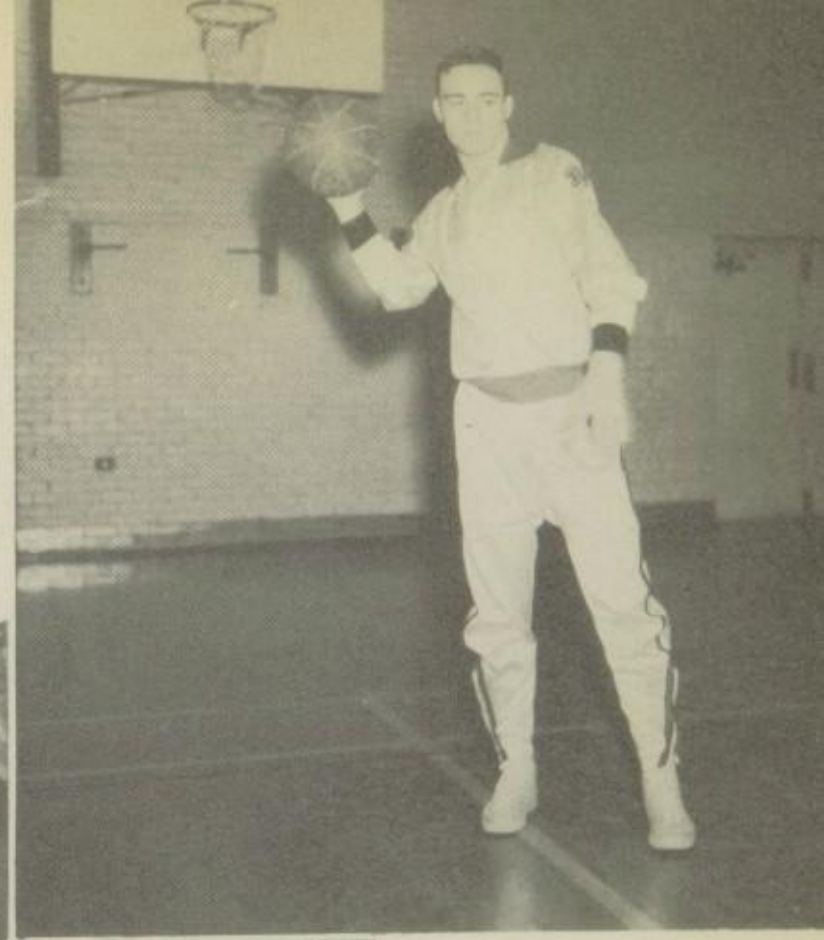

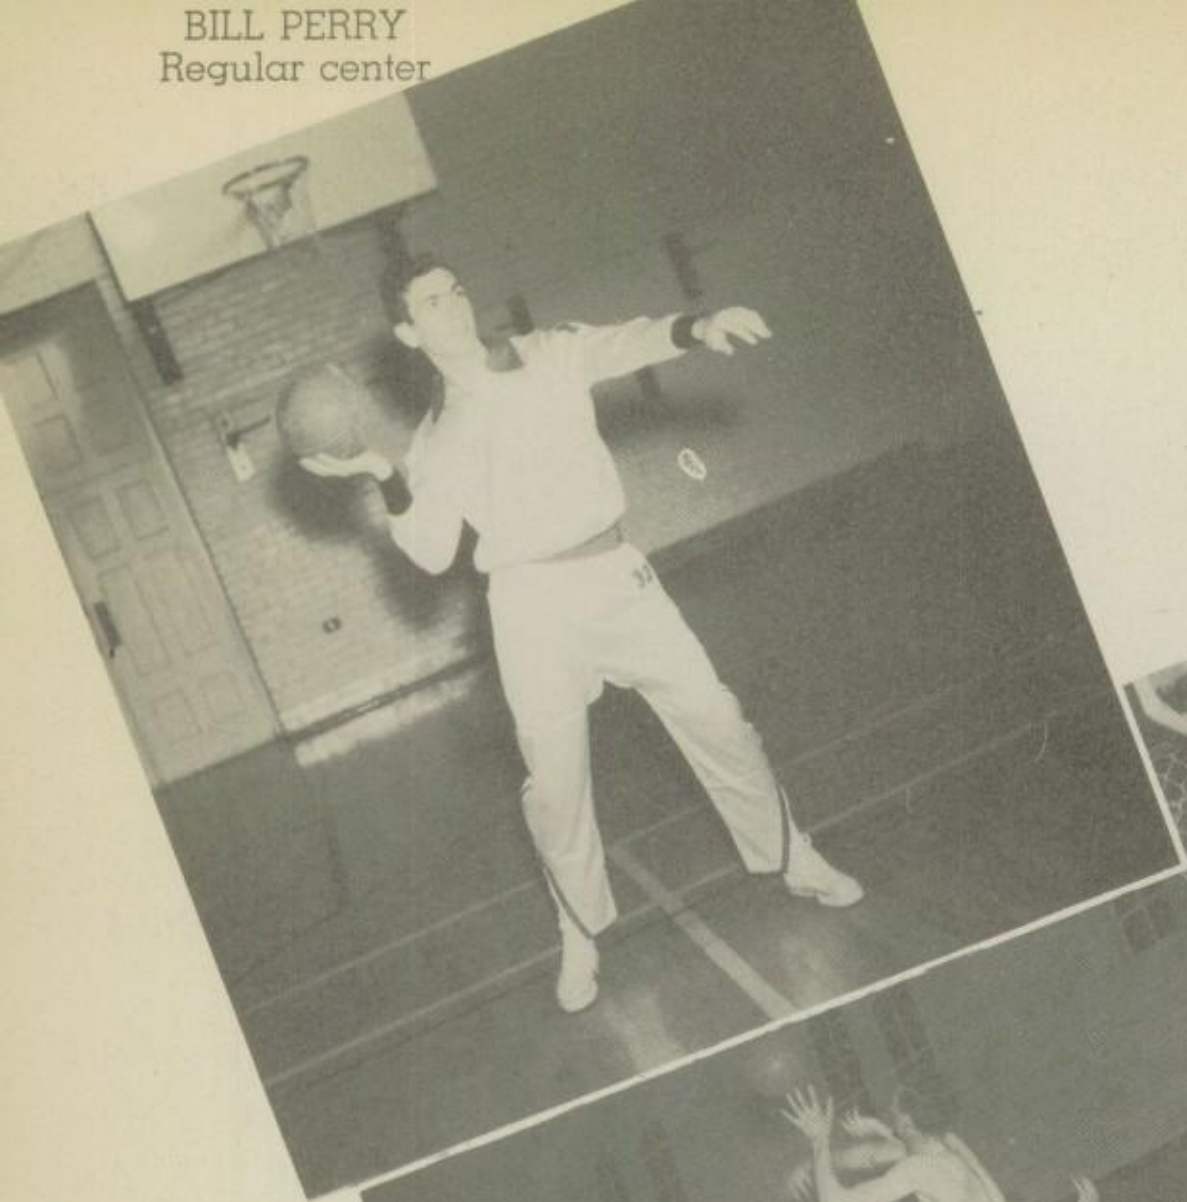

The boys who composed the '43 Coyote basketball squad deserve much recognition for their fine work on the court. They played in the City League, a new organized form of competition in Wichita Falls, as well as keeping up their conference schedule.

GYM LEADERS' CLUBS

Shown in this picture are the girls who were runners-up for the title of gym representative.

The Girls' Gym Leaders' Club is an active organization in WFSH. The group is composed of the squad leaders in each class, who aid other students in learning new sports and in becoming more skilled in the old ones. Because of their qualifications as leaders they claim the respect of their fellow teammates and act as directors of the Physical Fitness program. This group also sponsors several social activities throughout the year.

OUR APPRECIATION

Once again we have come to the end of another epoch-making year in WFSH, the most important, perhaps, in the lives of this generation. Though it has been a difficult year for school publications, the 1943 Yearbook Staff have had their burden lightened by the assistance of certain individuals and groups. It is to these people who were not on the staff proper that we express our thanks and acknowledge our gratitude.

Students shown in the pictures on this page did much of the office and art work connected with the annual. The staff in the high school office, headed by Mr. A. K. Presson, spent valuable time in checking and looking up names. We gratefully acknowledge the assistance of our photographers; Mr. Ted Roberts of the Grande Studio was class photographer. Arch Greenwood and Charles King graciously helped us with our Favorites and Selectees; to these photographers we owe the success of our Favorite section. We are indebted to our publisher and printer, The Steck Company, who, together with their representative, Mr. E. B. Winkler, offered timely suggestions, worked extra hours, and granted other concessions. The editors of the Times Publishing Company have been gracious in allowing us the use of their football files. For this courtesy we are indeed grateful. In our own school, many teachers and departments assisted us; to them we offer thanks.

As a final message, the staff expresses the hope that all the students will want to treasure this record of the year's work and will be pleased to place it in their files for future reference and enjoyment. We have tried to depict the different phases of school life which show actual cooperation with our war program and plans for Victory. We trust we have succeeded.

My dear Mrs. Hill, you are one of the best History teachers I have ever had and I know, in spite of the fact that you're a school teacher, that you will have no trouble in the school, etc. In fact you might even get your husband back, if you want him.
Best of luck on that score.
Why did you leave the first place?
Dear Miss Hill,
I can't remember ever having enjoyed history classes so much before even if I didn't make such good grades. You have really got what it takes!
I love you lots!
Don't ever forget me!

Dear Mrs. Hill,
You are about the sweetest, sweetest person I've ever known, and I've enjoyed every moment in your class. If I could get you next year, teaching history
would be worth it!
Love,
Clavis C.

Dear Mrs. Hill
Here's to the sweetest teacher
I've ever had, and I have enjoyed being in your class so much that I can't always remember,
my dear Mrs. Hill
When you have taught me history beyond the scope of imagination and I could never forgive myself if I did not thank you.

Dear Mrs. Hill
